

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Proclamations by the Governor

Quarantine.

Whereas, In order to prevent hogs affected with, or exposed to, the disease known as Hog Cholera, being brought into the State of Virginia from other States and from territories, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of Virginia, under authority conferred by Section 4 of Chapter 203 of the Acts of the General Assembly, approved March 12, 1908, authorizing the said board to quarantine against all contagious and infectious diseases affecting the domestic animals of other States, has issued the following order:

On and after the thirteenth day of October, 1915, all hogs brought into the State of Virginia for breeding purposes, male or female, old or young, must be accompanied by a written certificate of health, signed by a duly qualified veterinarian, and endorsed by the State Veterinarian of the State from which said hogs originate for shipment.

Said certificate of health must state that the hog, or hogs, being shipped or brought into Virginia have upon examination been found free from all contagious and infectious diseases, and have not been exposed to hog cholera for a period of six weeks prior to shipment.

A true copy of said certificate of health must be forwarded, at time of shipment, to the State Veterinarian of Virginia.

Said veterinary examination of hogs offered for importation into Virginia must be within a period of forty-eight hours of time of shipment.

Any transportation company, person or persons violating the above regulation will be subject to a fine for violation of the State law enacted to protect the live stock of the State against contagious and infectious diseases.

J. G. FERNEYHOUGH,
State Veterinarian.

J. THOMPSON BROWN,
Chairman, State Live Stock Sanitary Board.

Now, therefore, I. H. C. Stuart, Governor of Virginia, pursuant to law, do proclaim the foregoing rules and regulations, established as aforesaid by the Virginia State Live Stock Sanitary Board, to be in full force and effect on and after October 13, 1915.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and the one hundred and fortieth year of the Commonwealth.

By the Governor:

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Thanksgiving Day.

Divine blessing has come to us in forms of bounty, mercy and peace. The year draws toward a close with the horn of plenty pouring its riches at our feet. In every section of our State there is abundance to satisfy bodily and physical needs, and on every side there is a wealth of opportunity for a larger intellectual life and a deepened moral culture. While foreign nations struggle in death-grips, and face despair, depopulation and famine, our people are still prosperous and full of hope. We need to be thankful for a great past, a happy present, and the faith of our fathers which points to a glorious future. Men everywhere among us have shown a quickened interest in the common weal, and true-hearted standard bearers of the truth are to be found in our schools, in civic life, and in public affairs. The spirit of altruism has grown and the public conscience has been awakened. Never in the history of the State have there been higher standards of honor for manhood, of purity for womanhood, and of training for children. Never has the hand of strength been so tenderly extended toward the weak and unfortunate. For all of these blessings, of harvest and of heart, it is our bounden duty to express our gratitude to Almighty God, and as a people to declare our devotion to Him as a loving Heavenly Father.

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, do designate and appoint Thursday, November 25, 1915, Thanksgiving Day, and do hereby request that all our people, abstaining from their usual occupations on that day, observe it as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, joining in public and private worship of Almighty God, thanking Him for all of His mercy and benefits and entreating Him for continued guidance and blessing, not forgetting a petition for the welfare of the unhappy people of the lands beyond the seas.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed, in Richmond, this the tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and fortieth.

H. C. STUART,
Governor.

Quarantine.

Whereas, in pursuance of an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, approved February 18, 1896, entitled "An Act to Provide for the Protection of Domestic Animals," etc., as amended by an act approved March 12, 1908, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board has established live stock quarantine lines, rules and regulations, and notified the Executive of its action, as follows:

No cattle shall be moved from the following counties and portions of counties to that portion of the State not herein mentioned, except according to the rules and regulations for moving quarantined cattle:

The counties of Southampton, Isle of Wight and Nansemond, and all of Surry county except Gullford Magisterial District, are quarantined.

From the above-mentioned counties and parts of counties in the State of Virginia cattle shall only be moved or allowed to move interstate to points outside of the quarantined area in accordance with the regulations for immediate slaughter, or for other purposes, as provided by the regulations for dipping, inspection, or certification.

CATTLE QUARANTINE RULES AND REGULATIONS.

To Prevent the Spread of the Cattle Tick (Margaropus Annulatus).

TEXAS CATTLE FEVER IN VIRGINIA.

1. No cattle shall be moved, or allowed to be moved, from the above-mentioned quarantined territory of this State, or from any quarantined territory of any other State, except as defined in the regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture and amendments thereto governing cattle transportation into that portion of Virginia not included in the above-described quarantined territory.

2. It shall be the duty of every authorized State Inspector to give legal or written notice to any person, firm or corporation owning, possessing or having in charge any cattle which may be found infected with cattle ticks, known as "Southern or Texas Fever Ticks (Margaropus Annulatus)," or which have been exposed to such infestations, to dip such cattle or have the same dipped in standard arsenical solution within five days from the service of said notice, or disinfect such cattle in such other equally effective manner as may be specifically directed in such written notice.

3. No person or persons owning or having in charge any cattle shall permit the same to run at large or stray on any public road, common or range in any county in this State in which the work of tick eradication is being conducted, or which is under quarantine, unless the owner or person in charge shall first obtain written permission for such movement, or privilege, from a duly authorized inspector of this State. State Inspectors shall issue written or printed official quarantine notice to every party having tick-infested cattle in his or her possession or under his or her control, and no person shall move, or allow to be moved, any cattle in any manner from the farm, field or enclosure in which they are quarantined to any other place except on written permission from a duly authorized State Inspector.

4. In order to prevent the spread and dissemination of Splenic, or Southern Cattle Fever, by any stray cattle in any quarantined county or district in this State, it is ordered, under authority conferred upon the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, that any such animal may at any time be taken up by a duly authorized State Inspector as an stray, and it shall be the duty of the said State Inspector, who may become the taker-up of such animal, to have the same promptly disinfected and cared for, and within five days he shall have each such animal valued and appraised by two freeholders, or householders, and the appraisers shall forthwith make out a certificate, setting forth the name and address of the taker-up, and that the animal was taken up, under and by virtue of this order, and particular description of the estray, its color, age, natural and artificial marks and brands, etc., and also its value; and having signed the same and sworn to it before a magistrate, they shall deliver it to the said inspector and taker-up, and said inspector and taker-up shall forthwith publish in some newspaper published in the same county, if there be one, for three weeks, successively, and if not, in some newspaper published nearest the place where the estray is taken up, and the subject and the facts of such certificate, giving notice to the owner to come forward, prove property and pay all legal charges; and after due publication the inspector and taker-up shall, within three weeks, proceed to sell said animal at public outcry to the highest bidder, after advertising the time and place of sale for at least two weeks by an advertisement put up in the courthouse of said county, and out of the proceeds of said sale he shall pay all the just charges of apprehending said animal, and for the care and disinfection, and all charges for the fees of the appraisers and the cost of publication; and all the money arising from such sale after paying the just cost and expenses as above set forth, shall be paid into the county treasury, and held for reclamation by true owner of said animal upon satisfactory proof of property by one or more disinterested witnesses.

Any person, or persons, moving cattle or allowing cattle to run at large in violation of rules or regulations of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, according to law, is subject to a fine of from ten to one hundred dollars for each animal so moved or allowed to be moved, or allowed to run at large.

Approved January 25, 1916.

JNO. THOMPSON BROWN,

Chairman State Live Stock Sanitary Board.

J. G. FERNEYHOUGH,

State Veterinarian.

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of the Commonwealth, call upon all officers of this State, and the citizens generally, to be vigilant and active in enforcing the provisions of said act and maintaining the said quarantine rules and regulations, so that the live stock industry of Virginia may be protected against Texas, or Splenic, Fever. I further call attention to the penalties imposed for violations of the provisions of said act, or the rules, regulations, orders or directions of the said State Live Stock Sanitary Board establishing and governing the said quarantine.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this twenty-fifth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and in the one hundred and fortieth year of the Commonwealth.

The Southern Commercial Congress.

Whereas, the Southern Commercial Congress will hold its eighth annual convention in Norfolk, Virginia, December 11-14, 1916; and,

Whereas, the Norfolk Congress will be devoted not only to the most practical consideration of the questions relating to agriculture and education, the industries and commerce, but also to an interpretation of the relation of the United States to international reconstruction; and,

Whereas, the Congress will review the achievements of the South and endeavor to outline plans of action with regard to constructive, statesmanlike activities for the future; and,

Whereas, reports are to be submitted at the Norfolk Congress by certain National and International Organizations bearing on the subjects of agriculture, colonization, municipal efficiency and foreign trade; and,

Whereas, the Secretary of the Navy has ordered the mobilization of the Atlantic fleet in Hampton Roads for official participation on the program of the Congress; and

Whereas, the Southern Commercial Congress is attended by legislative and executive officers of the Federal government, by State officials, foreign representatives, as well as agricultural, commercial and professional men of the nation; and,

Whereas, the problems associated with the changed outlook resulting from the European war, economic, agricultural, industrial, military, governmental, financial and commercial, are deserving of the most deliberate discussion and consideration of the men of the South at this hour; and,

Whereas, the city of Norfolk, with her historic past, her marvelous commercial achievements of the past year and her great present and future opportunity is to be the scene of this notable Congress.

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of Virginia, proclaim to the citizens of Virginia the Convention of the Southern Commercial Congress, and call upon the people of the State to respond cordially to this great movement, and through every organized entity to be represented in the convention and participate in its deliberations. Official announcement is hereby made to the States included in the territory of the Southern Commercial Congress as well as to all parts of the United States, of the forthcoming convention, and a cordial invitation is extended to the Chief Executive, and to the citizens of these States to visit Virginia during the session of the Congress, with the assurance that a genuine welcome awaits all who will come within the border of the State.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and affixed the Lesser Seal, of the Commonwealth, at the Capitol in the City of Richmond, this 19th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and in the one hundred and forty-first year of the Commonwealth.

Governors of Virginia

COLONY AND STATE.

I. Virginia in the time of Elizabeth.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH, Lord Proprietor of Virginia.	1584-1590
Ralph Lane, Governor of Raleigh's First Colony on Roanoke Island, N. C.	1585-1586
John White, Governor of Raleigh's Second Colony	1587-1590

II. Virginia under the London Company.

SIR THOMAS SMITH, President and Treasurer of the London Company. As treasurer of the London Company, Smith (or Smythe) was President of the Company, and the real Governor of Virginia, though resident in England.	1606-1613
Edward Maria Wingfield, President of the Council, resident in Virginia.	May 13, 1607, to Sept. 10, 1607.
John Ratcliffe, President of the Council, resident in Virginia.	1607-1608
Captain John Smith, President of the Council, resident in Virginia.	1608-1609.
Captain George Percy, President of the Council, resident in Virginia.	1609-1610
THOMAS WEST, LORD DE LA WARR, Governor and Captain-General.	1609-1613
Sir Thomas Gates, Lieutenant-General, and Deputy-Governor	May to June, 1610.
Thomas West, Lord De La Warr, Governor, resident in Virginia.	June, 1610, Mch. 1611.

* It is difficult to make a clear and comprehensive list of the governors of Virginia, for the reason that the person bearing the title of governor often resided in England, while the real official head, residing in Virginia, was a deputy. The history of Virginia executives divides itself into nine heads, including the period of attempted colonization in the time of Elizabeth, though the real history of Virginia begins with the London Company, whose rule lasted for eighteen years, under two presidents or treasurers—Sir Thomas Smith and Sir Edwin Sandys—neither of whom visited the colony. Therefore, the early government of Virginia was intended to be a colonial council, with a president, often spoken of as governor. The first man ever to have the title of "governor" was Lord Delaware, appointed by the London Company, in 1609, to hold office for life.

He held this position for nine years, dying 1618. He resided in Virginia only nine months, and for the balance of the nine years was represented by a deputy. In 1624, the London Company lost its charter, and Virginia then passed into the hands of the King, who, from time to time, appointed royal governors. These governors often resided in England, and were represented in Virginia by deputies. Virginia still retained a resident council, and if, for any reason, the governor or deputy governor was absent from the colony, the president of the council was the acting governor. In 1652, Virginia passed under the Commonwealth (Cromwell), and the General Assembly, by its own authority, elected four governors. From 1660 to 1776 Virginia was again under the rule of the King, who appointed the governors. During this period there were only ten governors of Virginia, but a great number of deputies. Of these governors, Sir William Berkeley, Sir Herbert Jeffries, Lord Culpeper, and Sir Edmund Andros were residents of Virginia the greater portion of their terms. But the Earl of Orkney, the Earl of Albemarle, the Earl of Loudoun, and Sir Jeffrey Amherst, governors from 1697 to 1763, never came to Virginia, and were represented by deputies. The last two governors to be appointed by the King, Lord Botetourt and Lord Dunmore, resided in Virginia during their term of office.

† From 1776 to 1852 the governors were elected by the Legislature, and were assisted in their executive duties by a council of State. On the resignation or death of a governor, the senior councillor acted as governor until the election of one by the Legislature. Therefore, on the resignation of Monroe, George William Smith acted as governor, but when he was burned to death in the Richmond Theatre, he in turn was succeeded by Peyton Randolph, till the Legislature elected James Barbour.

‡ Tazewell resigned, and Robertson acted as governor till the Legislature met and elected David Campbell.
